excerpt from how to face peace a handbook of community programs fragments of the future patched into a narrative are usually suggestive reading at least particularly when these fragments are borne out by chronicles although we have been reconstructing for some time fragments of the future and chronicles of the war have both been necessary for the purpose of this little book since not too much is generally known about the reconstruction readjusting restoration whatever you call it that is upon us it has seemed pertinent to collect what materials could be found which outlined or indicated the programs necessary to initiate in order tor help communities and individuals to find their places in i the big constructive work before the nation prophesying is not so safe as chronicling but what might be called propheteering is less dull than writing 5 accounts after the fact and to propheteer a little it seems unquestionable that the great spirit of public service evoked by the war must carry over into a desire for permanent and somewhat altruistic effort about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works this handbook sets a new research agenda in community development the contributors redefine existing areas within the context of interdisciplinary research highlight emerging areas for community development related research and provide researchers and post graduate students with ideas and encouragement for future research activity to do this the editors have deliberately chosen to frame this book not through a traditional sociological lens of class race and gender but through a wicked problems framework drawing upon the work of 37 international authors in diverse settings such as west papua peru the usa and australia and with methodologies equally as diverse from case studies and interviews to the use of music and story telling this handbook focuses upon five wicked problems forced displacement family gender and child related violence indigenous marginalisation climate change and food security and human survival in the context of disaster and recovery work by drawing together leading scholars from community development social work and social policy this handbook provides an up to the minute snapshot of current scholarship as well as signposting several fruitful avenues for future research this book is both an invaluable resource for both scholars and practitioners and an indispensable teaching tool for use in the classroom and in the field provided by publisher bridges community practice and clinical practice by collecting 33 chapters from social workers psychologists and psychiatrists that outline and illustrate the state of the art designed specifically for clinicians making the transition to community based work provided by publisher
